PROPERTY OWNERS TAKE UP PAVING PROPOSITION

Council's Plan for Securing State Aid is Discussed

BIG SAVING TO BOROUGH

Expenditure Can be Cut Down $10,000 or $12,000 if Property Holders Help

At a somewhat spirited meeting of property owners of Lincoln avenue was held at the rooms of the Charleroi Business Men's Association Tuesday evening, and the question of taking advantage of the State aid offered in paving that thoroughfare was discussed. There was some opposition to the project, and a difference of opinion developed as to the borough's share in the expense. Final action was taken after the matter had been explained by the appointment of a committee of property owners to confer with council and get all definite information available in order to determine future action.

Between 50 and 60 property owners were in attendance, and the meeting was called to order by President J. B. Schafer of the Business Men's Association, who stated the object. This was further explained by J. J. Hott, R. H. Rush, C. O. Frye, W. R. Gaut and E. C. Niver, members of the committee who had conferred with Commissioner of Highway Bigelow, who promises State aid in paving Lincoln avenue in the construction of one of the State highways through Charleroi.

It was shown that if the borough took advantage of the offer at this particular time a saving of from possibly $10,000 to $12,000 in paving that thoroughfare and the Lincoln avenue extension could be effected to the taxpayers of the borough, and that it is necessary for the property owners to petition council for the improvement at once as the State desires to do the work this fall. The plan considered by council is that if the State pays half that the property owners pay the other half, which would make thair assessments less than when they pay the two-thirds in the ordinary way.

Several property owners contended that if the State pays half that the borough should pay one-third of the remaining half, and the property owners the balance. Arguments were made for and against the proposition and to faciliate action H. A. Heupel was elected chairman and Jos. Hockendowner secretary of the property owners present. After more discussion a committee composed of Dr. J. W. Manon, S. E. Wingett, S. W. Claybaugh, M. Wilson, and S. R. Hawkins was appointed to confer with council and get all the available information in regard to the matter and report later. The meeting adjourned, and after conferring with council another meeting is to be held at the rooms of the Business Men's Association Friday evening to further consider the matter.

Birthday Cake Has Eighteen Candles

In honor of his 17th birthday, Earl Nicholson, the son of Mrs. M. R. Nicholson, of Crest avenue, received a pleasant surprise Tuesday when Mrs. Nicholson's brother, Charles T. Acklin and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hormell and family of Brownsville drove here in an automobile, bringing with them a birthday cake baked at Acklin's bakery. On the cake 18 candles were burning and it added materially to the pleasure of the day.

RESPECTED WOMAN IS FOUND DEAD ON FLOOR

Mrs. L. R. Bedsworth Discovered Prostrate And With Life Extinct by Her Husband Early This Morning

SEEMED IN HER USUAL HEALTH AT THE BREAKFAST

Lying face downward, her head touching the door sill, Mrs. Mary Alice Bedsworth, wife of L. R. Bedsworth, the well known merchant tailor was found dead this morning at 7 o'clock by her husband, just 25 minutes after he had left her to go to his tailor shop on the first floor of the building in khich they lived. Life was entirely extinct when she was found. Dr. J. K. Smith was called and pronounced deoth due to heart trouble, from which Mrs. Bedsworth had sufferer previously. She was 55 years and two months old.

Apparently in her usual health, Mrs. Bedsworth ate breakfast with her husband this morning. They lived over Mr. Bedsworth's tailor shop at 407 McKean avenue and after breakfast he went below to his shop intending to return in a few minutes. Meanwhile Mrs. Bedsworth, according to her usual custom, laid down for a few moments rest before taking up the day's duties.

The husband wan gone about 25 minutes. He heard no fall but on going up stairs and loking for his wife he found her lying prostrate on the floor, where she had fallen from the bed or had arisen and then fallen. Not an article in the room was disturbed, showing that death had entered very silently and without warning. Mrs. Bedsworth had suffered from heart trouble and on one or two occasions before had had fainting speels, which although rather serious at the time were not long continued, and did not seem to forebode any immediate or more serious trouble.

Besids th husband, two sistrs, Mrs. John Schlotter, of Seventh street and Miss Carrie Chaney and the father, Riley Chaney survive. The deceased was a well known woman in Charleroi and highly esteemed. No funeral arrangements have been made.

CARMICHAELS FAIR RICH IN FEATURES

Good Agricultural Exhibit Promised and Racing Card Will be Best Ever

The Greene County Agriculture and Manufacturing society has all arrangements completed for the fifty-ninth annual fair to be held at Carmichaels September 19, 20, 21 and 22. The management expects to have the biggest exhibition this year in the history of the society. The purses for the three days' racing is the largest ever offered and this will insure well filled races.

The fairs at Jefferson, Carmichaels, Mount Morris and Waynesburg coming in a string will bring many horses into the county as they can be taken from one track to another with but little bother and will not have to be shipped over the railroad.

The educational exhibit which will be on exhibition this year will be something for Greene county. Two experts, representatives from the Pennsylvania State College will be in charge of the exhibits and explain them fully. The granges are showing interest in this feature of the fair and each is expected to have fine exhibits.

BEALLSVILLE MAN KILLS HIMSELF

A. T. Sargeant, better known as "Dock," shot himself in the right temple at 6:30 o'clock Monday in his home near Beallsville, and died several hours later. He had been in ill health for several years and this is the only cause known for the suicide.

Sargent lived on the road from Scenery Hill to Marianna. His two sons, John and Ray, and a daughter, heard the shot and rushed to their father's room, where they found him lying across his bed, with a bullet wound in his right temple. They found nothing to lead them to believe that there was any doubt he had fired the shot himself.

Dr. W. A. McCall of Zollarsville, was called and discovered a spark of life in the wounded body, but the bullet had badly fractured the skull and plowed into the brain. Death came soon after the doctor's arrival.

Sargeant was 53 years old. He was married to a Miss Walker and the three children were all at home at the time of his death. Ill health befell him some time ago, and he was frequently depressed, but his suicide was a shock to his family and to those who knew him best.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock today at the late home, with interment in the Zollarsville cemetery.

ATHLETIC WORK WILL BEGIN SOON

Turn Verein Secures Services of Prof. Charles Meyers as Phycial Director

The Gymnastic and Athletic School of the Charleroi Turn Verein will be opened on the 13th of September. Prof Chas. Meyer, who will be the instructor here for the coming season, is from Pittsburg (former instructor Central Turn Verein) and is well experienced in the line of physical training. The gymnasium of this society is very large, well equipped and adapted especially for hygienic purposes. The shower baths, tub baths and swimming pool can be found in the basement and one can have the pleasure after vigorous exercises of taking either a shower or a plunge in the pool. One can never pay too much attention to bathing especially after having exercised. The lesson would not be complete without it.

Founder of Gymnastic Societies

About one hundred years ago, the first public playground was built at the Hasenbaide in Berlin. On the ground, which was a very extensive area were large shade trees and at that time many apparatus we have at present were not then known, although nature had furnished them some. Friedrich Ludwig Jahn, his pupils called him "Father Jahn," was the founder of the playgrounds and gymnastic societies. His aim was to develop the body and with it the mind, as he often said:

"In a healthy body can only reside a healthy mind."

He used the trees for his first apparatus. By fastening long ropes to the branches, he practiced climbing and swinging exercises with the youths. Stumps of trees were used in place of bar bucks, and his pupils would vault them with delight.

He also used the branches of trees for balancing exercises, as walking on them and the youths would like it well, because it was generally six or seven feet above the ground. The more daring a stunt was, the better they liked it. It is natural for a boy to test his skill and courage. Nothing is too risky for him. Father Jahn also played games with his pupils. His favorite game was "War" which he often played with the boys. Many times he went out into the woods with a crowd of boys. Dividing them to form two sides they would scatter out and upon meting would fight the battle Sticks representing the rifles were used, and the side which had succeeded in disarming their enemies were declared the winner of the battle. The playground was kept open during the whole year, although the attendence was not very large during the winter months. Some way had to be found to overcome this difficulty, and indoor gymnasiums were built where physical training was taught through-

IMPROVEMENT DESIRED IN VARIOUS PARTS OF TOWN

Storm Causes Wires to Break

Traffic Delayed By Reason of Accidents Along Trolley Line

By a heavy storm which raged in the vicinity of Riverview and Finleyville Tuesday afternoon the trolley line and the "feeder" line were torn down and trolley service on the Pittsburg-Charleroi line was interferred with to some extent. The trolley line went down at 5:30 and it took bewith to some extent. The trolley line went down at 5:30 and it took between 45 minutes and an hour to repair it. The feeder line went down in two places, Riverview and Finleyville, at 8 o'clock. More delay was occasioned by this. One car spent three hours and forty minutes coming from Pittsburg, being held back not only by the accidents but through the working of the signals.

NORRIS IS ABSOLVED

Local Man Found Not Guilty of Breaking Open House

LIVELY FIGHT IN STORM

Eph Norris, colored of Charleroi, was tried before Judge McIlvaine Tuesday, being charged with attempted burglary and was found not guilty Norris is alleged to have attempted to break into the house of G. B. Nelan at Charleroi, on the night of July 20. He was seen by James Dawson, a neighbor of Mr. Nelan, just sa he stepped on Mr. Nelan's porch. Mr. Nelan had been aroused just before that time and was ready for a fight.

Before being at the Nelan house Norris was on the porch of a house adjoining the Nelan home, and the screams of a woman there it is said aroused some of the neighbors, including Mr. Dawson and Mr. Nelan. Norris denied any evil intention. He admitted he had been drinking that evening. A storm came up and the rain aroused him. He says he went onto the first porch to get out of the storm, and that as he did so a woman screamed.

The jury found him not guilty.

Council Hears Requests at Regular Monthly Meeting

LIGHT PETITION IS READ

Chairman Gaut Reports that Committee Will Soon be Ready for Contract

Routine matters of more than ordinary interest occupied the attention largely of the borough council at the regular monthly meeting held Tuesday evening at council chambers. Among the principal matters taken up were the consideration of a light petition from the hill district, a communication from the Underwriters' Association and an estimate of the paving work which was finished recently on Seventh and Eighth streets by Contractor Arrigo. In addition to this business reports and bills were received.

President J.K.Hein was in the chair and councilmen present were C. O. Frye, Dr. A. O. Davis, Oscar C. Lynn, W. H. Calvert, and W. R. Gaut.

Treasurer E. W. Hastings' report for the month of July was received and ordered filed. It showed receipts amounting to $7,541.84, including a sum borrowed from the Charleroi Savings and Trust company. Disbursements amounted to $4,522, leaving a balance in the treasury of $3,019.06.

Burgess George W. Risbeck's report was received, showing for the month of August that 44 arrests had been made and $99.20 assessed in fines. About $55 of this amount was paid, the balance being served out by prisoners.

A petition was presented by residents in the vicinity of Shady avenue and Fourth street asking for a light to be placed at that corner. Chairman W. R. Gaut, of the light contract, stated that in a week or two the matter of letting the light contract for another period would be taken up and council decided to hold off action on the petition until after that time.

The Underwriter's Association sent in a communication in which they stated that the penalty rate on insurance in Charleroi would be decreased as soon as the Charleroi Water Company carried out agreements reached some time ago.

An estimate was made of the paving work on Seventh and Eighth streets, and warrants were ordered drawn in favor of Contractor Thomas Arrigo in the amount of $278.56.

Property holders in the vicinity of First street and Lincoln avenue asked for a sewer and the borough engineer was given charge of the matter.

Guy Moffitt was present representing his brother, John H. Moffitt, stating that the latter would donate to the borough a strip of ground 20 feet wide for an alley at the rear of the Crest avenue school building, to Eighth street if council would give him a strip five feet wide from Crest avenue back to the alley. Mr. Moffitt.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY.

Property owners along Lincoln avenue who are objecting to the paving of that thoroughfare at this particular time unless they are given special consideration not granted to other property holders living on paved streets will do well to consider their actions carefully. By their obstinacy they are likely to block a project that will save the taxpayers of the borough a sum variously estimated from $10,000 to $12,000. This is the State aid promised by Commissioner of Highways E. M. Bigelow is the construction of one of the State Highways through Charleroi.

It should be remembered that the location of the route is altogether discretionary with the Highways Commissioner. He has given assurance to a committee of citizens that he will include Lincoln avenue in his plan if the borough will stand a portion of the expense of the paving of that thoroughfare. He does not have to have that street paved to give his route a passage through the town. He can locate it over McKean avenue hill, which is already paved, and if he does so the borough will get no aid at all in the construction of the route. Consequently when Lincoln avenue is paved the whole burden will fall upon the property owners and taxpayers of the borough.

A number of property owners on Lincoln avenue refuse to sign the petition for paving unless they are given the benefits of the State aid instead of it going to the whole number of taxpayers. If this were done it would relieve the Lincoln avenue property owners of the same pro rata which the other citizens have paid on paved streets, and would be an unfair discrimination. If not enough signers are secured the project will have to be abandoned and the whole burden of paving later on will fall on the borough, which will mean an ultimate increase in taxation.

THE GOLDEN EGG.

"Don't kill the goose that lays the golden egg," is an aphorism that has been dinged into our ears from our earliest recollection. This is usually applied in an individual sense, but it can also have a public and economic application. Towns and communities can either kill the goose or chase it off the nest as readily as an individual. It looks as though the Pittsburg district has not been so very considerate of its poultry resources as it should have been.

The trouble with the Pittsburg district is that it wanted an incubator in the hatching of the golden eggs, instead of relying upon the good old fashioned way that may appear slow but produces results in the aggregate. For this reason the entire Pittsburg district has lost countless small industries because they were not sufficiently appreciated to foster and develop into greater proportions. The big concerns got all the consideration and coddling, and the little fellows had to go somewhere else to get a foothold. This lack of consideration chased the goose off the nest and now the golden eggs are lacking.

Other towns that don't have steel mills, armor plate plants, glass factories, coal mines and other big concerns are gathering more golden eggs just now than this famous district. They took care that the goose was not disturbed, and consequently are reaping their reward.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Flimsy, insufficient packing of goods for shipment costs American dollars every year. The introduction of cheap substitutes for substantial wooden cases is rsponsible for much of the trouble, although modern conditions of transportation and freight handling make it more necessary than ever before that goods in transit should be thoroughly protected. American consuls abroad have protested for years that bad packing lost a vast amount of trade to our exporters. Now the abuse has become a serious matter in respect to domestic shipments. More attention is given all the time to making packages attractive in appearance, but less care is taken to make them safe. A Pittsburg traffic expert said recently:

"In 85 per cent of the small lot shipments moving today the construction of the material forming the box or crate, the size of the nails, etc., are entidely inadequate to protect the contents."

"Fruit is shipped in paper-thin crates that are sometimes literally churned into pulp in transit. Tobacco is sent by rail in cases so flimsy that they can be perforated with a lead pencil. A shipment of tobacco in small bags arrived recently at Philadelphia with one-third of the cases so badly damaged that the contents could be easily removed through the breaks. Heavy hardware is seldom packed carefully enough to keep it from breaking through its casing. Very often no thought is taken of the damage that may be done to freight when packed in cars with heavy, rough, or pointed articles."

"It is not always you find a creditor who considers the expense of carrying him along," said a Charleroi business man the other day. "I had an acount with an individual for $4 and promptly at the end of the month I sent his a statement. No attention was paid to the bill, and at the end of the next month another statement was sent. This continued for a year, a statement being sent every month. At the end of the year the individual dropped into my office one day and said:

"'I'd like to pay that small bill I've been owing you for about a year.'

"I wrote him out a receipt and he handed me $4.25, saying:

"'As near as I can recollect you've used up about 25 cents worth of postage sending me statements, so the quarter is for the extra expense.'

"That, I consider, a most unusual procedure in business."

DISSERTATICN ON THE SHIRT

Writer Uncorks Vials of Wrath in a Few Indictments of Uncomfortable Modern Garment.

The onward march of civilization has its obstacles.

Shirts being made for man and not man for shirts, every time a man gets a new shirt or one comes back from the laundry the moral uplift needs the application of the safety brake and the emergency clutch to keep us from dropping into the cellar again.

Shirts are made of various kinds of materials. After the sewing is finished they are left for a few hours in a strong mixture of glue and concrete. This fastens the back to the bosom and sticks the sleeves together. Buttonholes are then made in the neckband, and the band is then steeped in cement so that the buttonholes cannot be opened. The bosom is then adorned with buttons. These buttons are sewed on with one weak thread, so that when you try to button the shirt, after having pried it apart with a paper knife and strong language, the buttons will fly away merrily.

Shirts that are laundered are always sent back with the lower button buttoned in, and all the buttonholes glued tight.

Dress shirts are made with veneered bosoms, with little round holes where the studs are only supposed to be placed. These bosoms are absolutely inflexible, and the studs cannot be inserted without the aid of a sledge hammer, which is damaging to the disposition.

The man who will invent a buttonless shirt, which cannot be starched in the neckband, will earn a monument which will be illuminated at night.—Chicago Evening Post.

John H. Bowers States Position

As Republican Candidate for Treasurer He Makes Plain What He Will Do with Money

TO THE PUBLIC:—

As a Republican candidate for the office of county treasurer, and in view of the many criticisms of the manner in which the public funds are handled, and the charges that are made that private interests and not the county are reaping an undue benefit from the use of public funds not needed for immediate use, I desire to define my position in this matter, and to state to the public the policy I will pursue if nominated and elected to the office for which I am a candidate.

I promise, if nominated and elected to the office of county treasurer to regard the position as a public trust instead of a sinecure, and to conduct the office wholly in the interest of the taxpayers whose servant I would be.

I promise, if nominated and elected to regard the office as a business proposition, which demands more than the mere receiving and disbursing of public funds, and to exercise all my faculties and ability in an effort to make all idle money as profitable to the county as it may be to the bank or depository which may have charge of it.

I promise, if nominated and elected to secure and pay for my own bond so that no individual or bank will have any claim upon me for favors to the detriment of the public service.

I promise, if nominated and elected to Ask for Bids from the Various Banking Institutions of the County and to Award the Deposit of All Public Money to the Same Which will Pay the Highest Rate of Interest, commensurate with the proper safeguarding of the public funds.

Believing that these declarations will make clear my position on the proper conduct of the duties of county treasurer in his relation to the taxpayers, I submit my claims to the Republican voters and ask their support at the primary election to be held Saturday, September 30.

Proposed amendments to the Constitution submitted to the citizens of this Commonwealth for their approval or rejection, by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and published by order of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in pursuance of Article XVIII of the Constitution.

Number One.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Allegheny County.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

That section six of article five be amended, by striking out the said section, and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 6. In the county of Philadelphia all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the district courts and courts of common pleas, subject to such changes as may be made by this Constitution or by law, shall be in Philadelphia vested in five distinct and separate courts of equal and co-ordinate jurisdiction, composed of three judges each. The said courts in Philadelphia shall be designated respectively as the court of common pleas number one, number two, number three, number four, and number five, but the number of said courts may be by law increased, from time to time, and shall be in like manner designated by successive numbers. The number of judges in any of said courts, or in any county where the establishment of an additional court may be authorized by law, may be increased, from time to time, and whenever such increase shall amount in the whole to three, such three judges shall compose a distinct and separate court as aforesaid, which shall be numbered as aforesaid. In Philadelphia all suits shall be instituted in the said courts of common pleas without designating the number of the said court, and the several courts shall distribute and apportion the business among them in such manner as shall be provided by rules of court, and each court, to which any suit shall be thus assigned, shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof, subject to change of venue, as shall be provided by law.

In the county of Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of common pleas shall be vested in one court of common pleas, composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend to all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such changes as may be made by law, and subject to change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of said court shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in said court may be by law increased from time to time. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January succeeding its adoption.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section eight, article nine, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amendment to Article Nine, Section Eight.

Section 2. Amend section eight, article nine, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:—

"Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law; but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation," so as to read as follows:—

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt, or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation, may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum, in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation, except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes or for the construction of wharves and docks, or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks, as public improvements, owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenue in excess of the interest on said debt or debts and of the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts, may be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted: Provided, That a sinking fund for their cancellation shall be established and maintained.

ATHLETIC WORK WILL SOON BEGIN

out the year.

From that time gymnastic and athletice societies were formed and physical training for children and adults of both sexes became popular. The government of Germany later found it necessary to adopt this mode of training in their public schools, high schools, colleges and universities. All the other modern countries followed after a short period. The United States adopted it in their schools about thirty years ago, and in most of them it is compulsory.

Aim Of Physical Training.

The aim of physical training is to develop the strength and growth of the body structure, correct posture of the body, muscular power, muscular co-ordination and increased blood circulation.

1 Strength and growth of bony structure. A child must exercise to increase the nourishment of the bones especially during the growing period. This supply of nourishment is brought to them by the blood and is increased whenever the blood circulation is increased, thus depositing organic and inorganic portions in the bones. Physical training promotes growth and give strength to the bony structure.

2. Erect posture of the body. Deformities often exist, especially amongst children from six to twelve years of age. The most common are the spinal deformities. It may be due to bone disease, lack of muscular tone and faulty sitting positions. Children in the schools, who are restrained in the sitting positions for hours will naturally lean forward in order to release the weight from the spine, thereby relaxing the back muscles, and if this effect is not overcome by physical exercises, the result may be a deformity lasting throughout life. Exercises to counteract the evil effects should be given to the pupils in the school room, alternating with the study periods. It would furthermore be a recreation to the pupils by relieving the mental strain and increasing the general nourishment.

3. Muscular power. A general muscular development is a necessity. Without it the upright position could not be maintained. The person with a good muscular development has as a rule great vitality and can resist diseases better than the one less developed and of lower vitality. Physical training tends to increase the number of muscle fibers which constitutes the strength of the muscles. There is a great difference between physical and mental work. The person who works in the office all day long and perhaps for years does not have enough physical activity to keep his body in good shape, unless he finds some way to exercise his muscles. On the other hand, the person who works only physically may be over-developed and lacking in mental activity. Unless he develops his mind by mental exercising, neither one would be normally developed. Physical training therefore tends to develop the body normally and if properly applied to the need of the individual, makes him healthy and strong.

4. Muscular co-ordination. This plays a very important part in the line of Physical training. The skeletal muscles are controlled by our will and through the connection of the nervous system which receives and sends out impulses, we are able to contract and relax our muscles at will. The back part of the brain (cerebellum) is the seat of muscular co-ordination, sense of touch, equilibrium, muscle sense and sight. Every one has to learn to stand, walk, run and so on. At first all are difficult, but after a time they become easy and are performed unconsciously. In standing or walking many muscles are concerned, and if the mind had to look directly after them we could do nothing else at the same time. We have forgotten how we learned to walk, but in acquiring a new mode of progression in later years as skating, we find that at first it needs all our attention, but when once learned we have only to start the series of movements and they are almost unconsciously carried on for us. The path of connection between the fibres of the incoming and out-going impulses become easier the more it is traveled.

The Easy Laxative

TRIALAX.

Speaks for Itself

Trialax has been proven to be the best and easiest Laxative ever offered to the people. One triangular tablet, chewed well, is often times enough, as a good mild laxative, but you eat more without any injurious effects. Try one. For sale by all druggists 10 and 25 cents. Guaranteed by The Trialax Company under the Pure Food and Drug Act, June 30, 1906, Serial No. 34,900. 3

As one progresses by beginning with the easiest and simplest, up a long scale of intermediate, to the most difficult and complex movements he naturally forms, so to say, new paths of nerve impulses and gradually masters difficult exercises or stunts by having learned the proper co-ordination of his muscles. After one has thus progressed in the manner as already mentioned, he has not only developed his muscles, but also that part of the brain from which the impulses of muscular co-ordination have originated.

5. Increased blood circulation. When exercising the blood circulation is increased and can be brought up to a very high point. The nutritive substances for the body use, is carried in the blood stream, supplying the different organs and muscle tissue. After nourishment is brought to the tissue, it is then used up by the muscles and the accumulated waste-matter is again taken up by the blood-stream and reaches the exterior by the excretory organs. The formed wasts matter in the muscle tissue if an overamount is formed, acts as poison and if not fast enough carried away the result is muscular fatigue. If a person without any training would attempt to run a quarter of a mile in a race he will drop to the ground exhausted long before he reaches the finishing line. He will have to train very carefully in order to develop the recuperative power one of the immediate causes lies in the circulatory and respiratory organs, on which excessive work is thrown.

Exercises in Youth. should be regulated largely by sex; not that women are to be shut up and made pale, delicate and unfit to share the duties or participate fully in the pleasure of life but the other calls on the strength of the young woman renders vigorous muscular work often inadvisable, especially under conditions where it is apt to be followed by chill. Girls should take corrective exercises, games with a light medicine ball out of doors or in well ventilated rooms, and in any case should not be cribbed in tight stays or tight boots. Light apparatus exercises applied to their need should by no means be neglected. Fancy dancing, especially the "Gilbert system" which is very effective as it develops not only grace but also great co-ordination. A healthy boy or young man may do nearly anything, but until 22 or 23 very prolonged effort is not advisable. The frame is still not firmly knit or as capable of endurance as it will subsequently become. If too much is attempted at this age not endurance but broken vitality may result.

Exercises in Adult life. Up to 40 a man may carry on safely the exercises of youth, but after that sudden efforts should be avoided. A lad of 21 or so may, if trained, safely run a quarter mile race, but to a man of forty-five it would be dangerous, for with the rigitity of cartilages and blood-vessels which begins to show about that time comes a diminished power of meeting a sudden violent demand. On the other hand a man of 30 more safely than the lad of 19 or 21 of the long distance walking matches which have lately been in vogue, the prolonged effort would be less dangerous to him, though a six-days' match, with its attendant loss of sleep cannot fail to be more or less dangerous to any one. For women during middle life the same rules apply. There should be some regular but not violent daily exercises.

In old age. The needful amount of exercises is less, and it is still more important to avoid sudden or violent effort.

Exercise for Invalids. This should be regulated under medical advice. For feeble persons gymnastic exercises are especially valuable, since from their variety they permit of selection according to the condition of the individual, and their amount can be conveniently controlled.

In the correction of deformity, more especially that resulting from faulty posture or work using one side of the body more than the other exercises of special kinds adapted to the individual case have accomplished wonderful and lasting results.

The public is cordially invited to "drop in" at the Charleroi Turn Verein any afternoon or evening during class hours and see how the classes are conducted. The class wark consists of marching tactics, calisthenics with and without hand apparati, gymnastics, dancing apparatus work, wrestling, fencing, athletic work and games. The schedule or classes will be published later.

The Doctor's Question

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that ninety-nine per cent of illness is attended with inactive bowers and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Rexall Orderlies are a positive, pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly, and have a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness. diarrhoea or other annoying effects. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Three sizes, 50c., 25 c and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. Carrolls Drug Store, 625 Fallowfield avenue.

Resolutnons Of Respect.

Resolutions of respect adopted by Charleroi Circle No. 303 of the Protected Home Circle, in memory of Brother Frank Koller who departed this life September 1st, 1911.

Whereas: It has pleased the Almighty to remove from among us, one of our worthy esteemed brothers, in which we feel a great loss, but bow submissively to His will, therefore

Resolved: That the sudden removal of such a life from our midst leaves a vacancy that will be deeply realized by all members of our Circle.

Resolved: That with sincere sympathy for the bereaved wife and relatives of the deceased, we hereby express our hope that even so great a loss may be over-ruled for good, by Him who doeth all things well.

Resolved: That a copy of these resolutionsbe spread upon the minutes, a copy printed in the local paper and a copy forwarded to the bereaved family.

SPORTSMEN SEEK QUAIL PRESERVE

Washington Countians Eager to Secure Consent of State for Project

If the plans of the sportsmen of Pennsylvania do not go away at the next legislative session, Washington county is likely to be the site of one of the first of the proposed new game sanctuaries that are planned in the State, says the Washington Record. In case it comes it will be devoted to the propagration and protection of quail and grouse.

The sportsmen will again present the resident hunters' license plan to the next legislature and steps are being taken to thoroughly organize all the forces for the conservation of the game and birds in preparation of the coming battle.

The hunters' license bill was almost unanimously favored at the last session by the representatives from Western Pennsylvania but was whipped in the Senate by a combination of disgruntled Democrats and a few senators from the mountain counties representing in all less than one-fourth of the state's population.

If it is passed next time, as seems probable, the plan is to utilize a part of the revenue to be derived, which is estimated at $150,000 per year for the establishment of so-called "game sanctuaries"

These will simply be protected areas where the quail may be absolutely protected and the grouse also. It is manifestly impossible under existing conditions for the State to purchase farm-land such as is needed for quail preserves, but sportsmen hold that paying a small bonus to the farmers, areas from 1,500 to 2,000 acres can be set aside in each county suitable for quail, and all hunting rights leased by the game commission for say 10 cents per acre per year, under 10 year agreements.

Washington county sportsmen will make an effort to have one of these areas established along Buffalo creek or in some other suitable section and the quail which naturally thrive hereabouts if allowed to breed unmolested, while the leasing farmers will be expected to leave a few corn shocks for shelter and a little grain in the fence corners for food. The local farmers appreciate the fact that the quail are great destroyers of incest pests and there is likely to be little trouble in finding a site for the proposed sanctuaries.

BENTLEYVILLE ALL IN POLITICS

Predominant Issue in Nomination to be the Local Assessments

Bentleyville is said to be all stirred up over the matter of local assessments, which, it is stated, will be the predominant issue in the nomination and election of borough officials at both the primary this month and at the November election. The line-up it is said, will be the people of the borough against the Pittsburg & Westmoreland Coal company, one of the largest property owners in the borough, and which is charged with evading its just share of taxation.

At a meeting of council Monday night a movement was made to start an investigation in regard to assessments in Bentleyville. It is alleged that the borough has been losing $5,000 annually in taxes which, it is said are evaded by the coal company. It was discovered not long ago that the 300 new coke ovens installed and operated by the company within the borough limits were not assessed at all, although they had been in operation since February 1910.

In the discussion which arose at the council meeting it was disclosed that the total assessment of the coal company's property in the borough is $134,450, when it should be it is asserted, somewhere near half a million. Other items were enumerated which were either omitted or inadequately assessed, according to the opinions of those who raised the question. The claim was also made that private property is asesssed much higher proportionately than the coal company's holdings, and that rank discriminations have been made.

In all probability the matter will enter into the fourthcoming primary. and a fight wil l be made to elect borough officials favorable to a change of methods. A red hot contest is promised.

NEW DOPE HAS IT "BILL" PHILLIPS WILL BOSS BOSTON

More dope originating from the baseball league that makes dope is to the effect that "Bill" Phillips, of Charleroi manager of the Youngstown team is not going to manage the Cincinnati Reds at all, but is going to manage Boston in the National league. Of course like all other dope it all depends on the word "if". Phillips was slated a few days ago as the future manager of the Cincinnati National league team. While this matter is being weighed in the balance, another story originating from Chicago makes its' appearance.

The latter story is, briefly stated, that 'Bill" Phillips one of the most astute and successful managers that ever managed any league team anywhere, is bound to be the manager for Boston next year, providing that W. H. Locke, the Pittsburg club's secretary, purchases an interest in the club.

Inasmuch as Locke has turned down one of the propositions submitted him by the Boston Rustler's Rustler and there doesn't seem to be any likelihood of any more propositions being forthcoming, Phillip's chances for managing the Rustlers seem to be null and void.

"TILLIE" DEWAR WILL RETURN TO PITTSBURG

'Tillie" Dewar, of California the University of Pittsburg football star has announced that he has decided to return to the Pittsburg school again this fall and will be seen with Joe Thompson's eveven most likely in the quarterback position. "Tillie" held a responsible position with the Philadelphia Gas company during the summer.

Council's Plan for Securing State Aid is Discussed

BIG SAVING TO BOROUGH

Expenditure Can be Cut Down $10,000 or $12,000 if Property Holders Help

At a somewhat spirited meeting of property owners of Lincoln avenue was held at the rooms of the Charleroi Business Men's Association Tuesday evening, and the question of taking advantage of the State aid offered in paving that thoroughfare was discussed. There was some opposition to the project, and a difference of opinion developed as to the borough's share in the expense Final action was taken after the matter had been explained by the appointment of a committee of property owners to confer with council and get all definite information available in order to determine future action.

Between 50 and 60 property owners were in attendance, and the meeting was called to order by President J. B Schafer of the Business Men's Association, who stated the object. This was further explained by J. J Hott, R. H. Rush, C. O Frye, W. R Gaut and E. C Niver, members of the committee who had conferred with Commissioner of Highway Bigelow, who promises State aid in paving Lincoln avenue in the construction of one of the State highways through Charleroi.

It was shown that if the borough took advantage of the offer at this particular time a saving of from possibly $10,000 to $12,000 in paving that thoroughfare and the Lincoln avenue extension could be effected to the taxpayers of the borough, and that it is necessary for the property owners to petition council for the improvement at once as the State desires to do the work this fall. The plan considered by council is that if the State pays half that the property owners pay the other half, which would make thair assessments less than when they pay the two-thirds in the ordinary way.

Several property owners contended that if the State pays half that the borough should pay one-third of the remaining half, and the property owners the balance. Arguments were made for and against the proposition and to faciliate action H. A. Heupel was elected chairman and Jos. Hockendowner secretary of the property owners present. After more discussion a committee composed of Dr. J. W. Manon, S E Wingett, S W. Claybaugh, M Wilson, and S. R. Hawkins was appointed to confer with council and get all the available information in regard to the matter and report later The meeting adjourned, and after conferring with council another meeting is to be held at the rooms of the Business Men's Association Friday evening to further consider the matter.

Birthday Cake Has Eighteen Candles

In honor of his 17th birthday, Earl Nicholson, the son of Mrs. M. R. Nicholson, of Crest avenue, received a pleasant surprise Tuesday when Mrs. Nicholson's brother, Charles T. Acklin and Mr. and Mrs Walter Hormell and family of Brownsville drove here in an automobile, bringing with them a birthday cake baked at Acklin's bakery. On the cake 18 candles were burning and it added materially to the pleasure of the day.

RESPECTED WOMAN IS FOUND DEAD ON FLOOR

Mrs. L. R. Bedsworth Discovered Prostrate And With Life Extinct by Her Husband Early This Morning

SEEMED IN HER USUAL HEALTH AT THE BREAKFAST

Lying face downward, her head touching the door sill, Mrs Mary Alice Bedsworth, wife of L. R. Bedsworth, the well known merchant tailor was found dead this morning at 7 o'clock by her husband, just 25 minutes after he had left her to go to his tailor shop on the first floor of the building in khich they lived Life was entirely extinct when she was found. Dr. J. K Smith was called and pronounced deoth due to heart trouble, from which Mrs Bedsworth had sufferer previously. She was 55 years and two months old.

Apparently in her usual health, Mrs. Bedsworth ate breakfast with her husband this morning They lived over Mr Bedsworth's tailor shop at 407 McKean avenue and after breakfast he went below to his shop intending to return in a few minutes. Meanwhile Mrs. Bedsworth, according to her usual custom, laid down for a few moments rest before taking up the day's duties.

The husband wan gone about 25 minutes He heard no fall but on coming up stairs and loking for his wife he found her lying prostrate on the floor, where she had fallen from the bed or had arisen and then fallen. Not an article in the room was disturbed, showing that death had entered very silently and without warning. Mrs Bedsworth had suffered from heart trouble and on one or two occasions before had had fainting speels, which although rather serious at the time were not long continued, and did not seem to forebode any immediate or more serious trouble.

Besids th husband, two sistrs, Mrs John Schlotter, of Seventh street and Miss Carrie Chaney and the father, Riley Chaney survive The deceased was a well known woman in Charleroi and highly esteemed No funeral arrangements have been made.

CARMICHAELS FAIR RICH IN FEATURES

Good Agricultural Exhibit Promised and Racing Card Will be Best Ever

The Greene County Agriculture and Manufacturing society has all arrangements completed for the fifty-ninth annual fair to be held at Carmichaels September 19, 20, 21 and 22 The management expects to have the biggest exhibition this year in the history of the society. The purses for the three days' racing is the largest ever offered and this will insure well filled races.

The fairs at Jefferson, Carmichaels, Mount Morris and Waynesburg coming in a string will bring many horses into the county as they can be taken from one track to another with but little bother and will not have to be shipped over the railroad.

The educational exhibit which will be on exhibition this year will be something for Greene county. Two experts, representatives from the Pennsylvania State College will be in charge of the exhibits and explain them fully. The granges are showing interest in this feature of the fair and each is expected to have fine exhibits.

BEALLSVILLE MAN KILLS HIMSELF

A. T. Sargeant, better known as "Dock," shot himself in the right temple at 6:30 o'clock Monday in his home near Beallsville, and died several hours later He had been in ill health for several years and this is the only cause known for the suicide

Sargent lived on the road from Scenery Hill to Mariamna. His two sons, John and Ray, and a daughter, heard the shot and rushed to their father's room, where they found him lying across his bed, with a bullet wound in his right temple. They found nothing to lead them to believe that there was any doubt he had fired the shot himself.

Dr. W. A. McCall of Zollarsville, was called and discovered a spark of life in the wounded body, but the bullet had badly fractured the skull and plowed into the brain. Death came soon after the doctor's arrival.

Sargeant was 58 years old. He was married to a Miss Walker and the three children were all at home at the time of his death. Ill health befell him some time ago, and he was frequently depressed, but his suicide was a shock to his family and to those who knew him best.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock today at the late home, with interment in the Zollarsville cemetery.

ATHLETIC WORK WILL BEGIN SOON

Turn Verein Secures Services of Prof. Charles Meyers as Phycial Director

The Gymnastic and Athletic School of the Charleroi Turn Verein will be opened on the 13th of September Prof Chas. Meyer, who will be the instructor here for the coming season, is from Pittsburg (former instructor Central Turn Verein) and is well experienced in the line of physical training. The gymnasium of this society is very large, well equipped and adapted especially for hygienic purposes. The shower baths, tub baths and swimming pool can be found in the basement and one can have the pleasure after vigorous exercises of taking either a shower or a plunge in the pool One can never pay too much attention to bathing especially after having exercised. The lesson would not be complete without it.

Founder of Gymnastic Societies

About one hundred years ago, the first public playground was built at the Hasenbaide in Berlin On the ground, which was a very extensive area were large shade trees and at that time many apparatus we have at present were not then known, although nature had furnished them some. Friedrich Ludwig Jahn, his pupils called him "Father Jahn," was the founder of the playgrounds and gymnastic societies. His aim was to develop the body and with it the mind, as he often said:

"In a healchy body can only reside a healthy mind"

He used the trees for his first apparatus. By fastening long ropes to the branches, he practiced climbing and swinging exercises with the youths. Stumps of trees were used in place of bar bucks, and his pupils would vault them with delight.

He also used the branches of trees for balancing exercises, as walking on them and the youths would like it well, because it was generally six or seven feet above the ground. The more daring a stunt was, the better they liked it. It is natural for a boy to test his skill and courage. Nothing is too risky for him. Father Jahn also played games with his pupils. His favorite game was "War" which he often played with the boys Many times he went out into the woods with a crowd of boys. Dividing them to form two sides they would scatter out and upon meting would fight the battle Sticks representing the rifles were used, and the side which had succeeded in disarming their enemies were declared the winner of the battle. The playground was kept open during the whole year, although the attendence was not very large during the winter months. Some way had to be found to overcome this difficulty, and indoor gymnasiums were built where physical training was taught through-

NORRIS IS ABSOLVED

Local Man Found Not Guilty of Breaking --Open House

LIVELY FIGHT IN STORM

Erb Norris colored of Charleroi, was tried before Judge McIlvaine Tuesday being charged with attempted burglary and was found not guilty Norris is alleged to have attempted to break into the house of G B. Nelan at Charleroi, on the night of July 20. He was seen by James Dawson, a neighbor of Mr Nelan, just as he stepped on Mr. Nelan's porch Mr Nelan had been aroused just before that time and was ready for a fight.

Before being at the Nelan house Norris was on the porch of a house adjoining the Nelan home, and the screams of a woman there it is said aroused some of the neighbors, including Mr. Dawson and Mr. Nelan. Norris denied any evil intention. He admitted he had been drinking that evening A storm came up and the rain aroused him. He says he went onto the first porch to get out of the storm, and that as he did so a woman screamed

The jury found him not guilty.

Council Hears Requests at Regular Monthly Meeting

LIGHT PETITION IS READ

Chairman Gaut Reports that Committee Will Soon be Ready for Contract

Routine matters of more than ordinary interest occupied the attention largely of the borough council at the regular monthly meeting held Tuesday evening at council chambers. Among the principal matters taken up were the consideration of a light petition from the hill district, a communication from the Underwriters' Association and an estimate of the paving work which was finished recently on Seventh and Eighth streets by Contractor Arrigo. In addition to this business reports and bills were received.

President J.K Hein was in the chair and councilmen present were C. O. Frye, Dr. A O. Davis, Oscar C. Lynn, W H Calvert, and W. R. Gaut.

Treasurer E. W. Hastings' report for the month of July was received and ordered filed It showed receipts amounting to $7,541 84, including a sum borrowed from the Charleroi Savings and Trust company. Disbursements amounted to $4,522. leaving a balance in the treasury of $3,019 06.

Burgess George W. Risbeck's report was received, showing for the month of August that 44 arrests had been made and $99.20 assessed in fines About $55 of this amount was paid, the balance being served out by prisoners.

A petition was presented by residents in the vicinity of Shady avenue and Fourth street asking for a light to be placed at that corner. Chairman W. R. Gaut, of the light contract, stated that in a week or two the matter of letting the light contract for another period would be taken up and council decided to hold off action on the petition until after that time.

The Underwriter's Association set in a communication in which they stated that the penalty rate on insurance in Charleroi would be decreased as soon as the Charleroi Water Company carried out agreements reached some time ago.

An estimate was made of the paving work on Seventh and Eighth streets, and warrants were ordered drawn in favor of Contractor Thomas Arrigo in the amount of $278.56.

Property holders in the vicinity of First street and Lincoln avenue asked for a sewer and the borough engineer was given charge of the matter.

Guy Moffitt was present representing his brother, John H. Moffitt, stating that the latter would donate to the borough a strip of ground 20 feet wide for an alley at the rear of the Crest avenue school building, to Eighth street if council would give him a strip five feet wide from Crest avenue back to the alley. Mr. Moffitt

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

(From noon today to noon tomorrow.)

Sun sets 6:20, rises 5:28; moon sets 3:05 a. m.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY.

Property owners along Lincoln avenue who are objecting to the paving of that thoroughfare at this particular time unless they are given special consideration not granted to other property holders living on paved streets will do well to consider their actions carefully. By their obstinacy they are likely to block a project that will save the taxpayers of the borough a sum variously estimated from $10,000 to $12,000. This is the State aid promised by Commissioner of Highways E. M. Bigelow is the construction of one of the State Highways through Charleroi.

It should be remembered that the location of the route is altogether discretionary with the Highways Commissioner. He has given assurance to a committee of citizens that he will include Lincoln avenue in his plan if the borough will stand a portion of the expense of the paving of that thoroughfare. He does not have to have that street paved to give his route a passage through the town. He can locate it over McKean avenue hill, which is already paved, and if he does so the borough will get no aid at all in the construction of the route. Consequently when Lincoln avenue is paved the whole burden will fall upon the property owners and taxpayers of the borough.

A number of property owners on Lincoln avenue refuse to sign the petition for paving unless they are given the benefits of the State aid instead of it going to the whole number of taxpayers. If this were done it would relieve the Lincoln avenue property owners of the same pro rata which the other citizens have paid on paved streets, and would be an unfair discrimination. If not enough signers are secured the project will have to be abandoned and the whole burden of paving later on will fall on the borough, which will mean an ultimate increase in taxation.

THE GOLDEN EGG.

"Don't kill the goose that lays the golden egg," is an aphorism that has been dinged into our ears from our earliest recollection. This is usually applied in an individual sense, but it can also have a public and economic application. Towns and communities can either kill the goose or chase it off the nest as readily as an individual. It looks as though the Pittsburg district has not been so very considerate of its poultry resources as it should have been.

The trouble with the Pittsburg district is that it wanted an incubator for the hatching of the golden eggs, instead of relying upon the good old fashioned way that may appear slow but produces results in the aggregate. For this reason the entire Pittsburg district has lost countless small industries because they were not sufficiently appreciated to foster and develop into greater proportions. The big concerns got all the consideration and coddling, and the little fellows had to go somewhere else to get a foothold. This lack of consideration chased the goose off the nest and now the golden eggs are lacking.

Other towns that don't have steel mills, armor plate plants, glass factories, coal mines and other big concerns are gathering more golden eggs just now than this famous district. They took care that the goose was not disturbed, and consequently are reaping their reward.

John H. Bowers States Position

As Republican Candidate for Treasurer He Makes Plain What He Will Do with Money

TO THE PUBLIC:—

As a Republican candidate for the office of county treasurer, and in view of the many criticisms of the manner in which the public funds are handled, and the charges that are made that private interests and not the county are reaping an undue benefit from the use of public funds not needed for immediate use, I desire to define my position in this matter, and to state to the public the policy I will pursue if nominated and elected to the office for which I am a candidate.

I promise, if nominated and elected to the office of county treasurer to regard the position as a public trust instead of a sinecure, and to conduct the office wholly in the interest of the taxpayers whose servant I would be.

I promise, if nominated and elected to regard the office as a business proposition, which demands more than the mere receiving and disbursing of public funds, and to exercise all my faculties and ability in an effort to make all idle money as profitable to the county as it may be to the bank or depository which may have charge of it.

I promise, if nominated and elected to secure and pay for my own bond so that no individual or bank will have any claim upon me for favors to the detriment of the public service.

I promise, if nominated and elected to Ask for Bids from the Various Banking Institutions of the County and to Award the Deposit of All Public Money to the Same Which will Pay the Highest Rate of Interest, commensurate with the proper safeguarding of the public funds.

Believing that these declarations will make clear my position on the proper conduct of the duties of county treasurer in his relation to the taxpayers, I submit my claims to the Republican voters and ask their support at the primary election to be held Saturday, September 30.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Flimsy, insufficient packing of goods for shipment costs American dollars every year. The introduction of cheap substitutes for substantial wooden cases is rsponsible for much of the trouble, although modern conditions of transportation and freight handling make it more necessary than ever before that goods in transit should be thoroughly protected. American consuls abroad have protested for years that bad packing lost a vast amount of trade to our exporters. Now the abuse has become a serious matter in respect to domestic shipments. More attention is given all the time to making packages attractive in appearance, but less care is taken to make them safe. A Pittsburg traffic expert said recently:

"In 85 per cent of the small lot shipments moving today the construction of the material forming the box or crate, the size of the nails, etc., are entidely inadequate to protect the contents."

"Fruit is shipped in paper-thin crates that are sometimes literally churned into pulp in transit. Tobacco is sent by rail in cases so flimsy that they can be perforated with a lead pencil. A shipment of tobacco in small bags arrived recently at Philadelphia with one-third of the cases so badly damaged that the contents could be easily removed through the breaks. Heavy hardware is seldom packed carefully enough to keep it from breaking through its casing. Very often no thought is taken of the damage that may be done to freight when packed in cars with heavy, rough, or pointed articles."

"It is not always you find a creditor who considers the expense of carrying him along," said a Charleroi business man the other day. "I had an acount with an individual for $4 and promptly at the end of the month I sent his a statement. No attention was paid to the bill, and at the end of the next month another statement was sent. This continued for a year, a statement being sent every month. At the end of the year the individual dropped into my office one day and said:

"'I'd like to pay that small bill I've been owing you for about a year.'

"I wrote him out a receipt and he handed me $4.25, saying:

"'As near as I can recollect you've used up about 25 cents worth of postage sending me statements, so the quarter is for the extra expense.'

"That, I consider, a most unusual procedure in business."

DISSERTATION ON THE SHIRT

Writer Uncorks Vials of Wrath in a Few Indictments of Uncomfortable Modern Garment.

The onward march of civilization has its obstacles.

Shirts being made for man and not man for shirts, every time a man gets a new shirt or one comes back from the laundry the moral uplift needs the application of the safety brake and the emergency clutch to keep us from dropping into the cellar again.

Shirts are made of various kinds of materials. After the sewing is finished they are left for a few hours in a strong mixture of glue and concrete. This fastens the back to the bosom and sticks the sleeves together. Buttonholes are then made in the neckband, and the band is then steeped in cement so that the buttonholes cannot be opened. The bosom is then adorned with buttons. These buttons are sewed on with one weak thread, so that when you try to button the shirt, after having pried it apart with a paper knife and strong language, the buttons will fly away merrily.

Shirts that are laundered are always sent back with the lower button buttoned in, and all the buttonholes glued tight.

Dress shirts are made with veneered bosoms, with little round holes where the studs are only supposed to be placed. These bosoms are absolutely inflexible, and the studs cannot be inserted without the aid of a sledge hammer, which is damaging to the disposition.

The man who will invent a buttonless shirt, which cannot be starched in the neckband, will earn a monument which will be illuminated at night.—Chicago Evening Post.

Proposed amendments to the Constitution submitted to the citizens of this Commonwealth for their approval or rejection, by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and published by order of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, in pursuance of Article XVIII of the Constitution.

Number One

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, so as to consolidate the courts of common pleas of Allegheny County.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania be, and the same is hereby, proposed, in accordance with the eighteenth article thereof:—

That section six of article five be amended by striking out the said section and inserting in place thereof the following:

Section 6. In the county of Philadelphia all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the district courts and courts of common pleas, subject to such changes as may be made by this Constitution or by law, shall be in Philadelphia vested in five distinct and separate courts of equal and co-ordinate jurisdiction, composed of three judges each. The said courts in Philadelphia shall be designated respectively as the court of common pleas number one, number two number three, number four, and number five; but the number of said courts may be by law increased from time to time, and shall be in like manner designated by successive numbers. The number of judges in any of said courts or in any county where the establishment of an additional court may be authorized by law, may be increased from time to time, and when and whenever the increase shall amount in the whole to three such three judges shall compose a distinct and separate court as aforesaid which shall be numbered as aforesaid. In Philadelphia all suits shall be instituted in the said courts of common pleas without designating the number of the said court, and the several courts shall distribute and apportion the business among them in such manner as shall be provided by rules of court, and each court to which any suit shall be thus assigned shall have exclusive jurisdiction thereof subject to change of venue, as shall be provided by law.

In the county of Allegheny all the jurisdiction and powers now vested in the several numbered courts of common pleas shall be vested in one court of common pleas composed of all the judges in commission in said courts. Such jurisdiction and powers shall extend to all proceedings at law and in equity which shall have been instituted in the several numbered courts, and shall be subject to such changes as may be made by law, and subject to change of venue as provided by law. The president judge of said court shall be selected as provided by law. The number of judges in said court may be by law increased from time to time. This amendment shall take effect on the first day of January succeeding its adoption.

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to section eight, article nine, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following is proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania, in accordance with the provisions of the eighteenth article thereof:—

Amendment to Article Nine, Section Eight.

Section 2. Amend section eight, article nine, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, which reads as follows:—

"Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district, or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation," so as to read as follows:—

Section 8. The debt of any county, city, borough, township, school district or other municipality or incorporated district, except as herein provided, shall never exceed seven per centum upon the assessed value of the taxable property therein, nor shall any such municipality or district incur any new debt or increase its indebtedness to an amount exceeding two per centum upon such assessed valuation of property, without the assent of the electors thereof at a public election in such manner as shall be provided by law, but any city, the debt of which now exceeds seven per centum of such assessed valuation may be authorized by law to increase the same three per centum in the aggregate, at any one time, upon such valuation, except that any debt or debts hereinafter incurred by the city and county of Philadelphia for the construction and development of subways for transit purposes, or for the construction of wharves and docks, or the reclamation of land to be used in the construction of a system of wharves and docks as public improvements owned or to be owned by said city and county of Philadelphia, and which shall yield to the city and county of Philadelphia current net revenue in excess of the interest on said debt or debts and of the annual installments necessary for the cancellation of said debt or debts, may be excluded in ascertaining the power of the city and county of Philadelphia to become otherwise indebted. Provided, That a sinking fund for their cancellation shall be established and maintained.

out the year.

From that time gymnastic and athletic societies were formed and physical training for children and adults of both sexes became popular. The government of Germany later found it necessary to adopt this mode of training in their public schools, high schools, colleges and universities. All the other modern countries followed after a short period. The United States adopted it in their schools about thirty years ago, and in most of them it is compulsory.

Aim Of Physical Training.

The aim of physical training is to develop the strength and growth of the body structure, correct posture of the body, muscular power, muscular co-ordination and increased blood circulation.

1. Strength and growth of bony structure. A child must exercise to increase the nourishment of the bones especially during the growing period. This supply of nourishment is brought to them by the blood and is increased whenever the blood circulation is increased, thus depositing organic and inorganic portions in the bones. Physical training promotes growth and give strength to the bony structure.

2. Erect posture of the body. Deformities often exist, especially amongst children from six to twelve years of age. The most common are the spinal deformities. It may be due to bone disease, lack of muscular tone and faulty sitting positions. Children in the schools, who are restrained in the sitting positions for hours will naturally lean forward in order to release the weight from the spine, thereby relaxing the back muscles, and if this effect is not overcome by physical exercises, the result may be a deformity lasting throughout life. Exercises to counteract the evil effects should be given to the pupils in the school room, alternating with the study periods. It would furthermore be a recreation to the pupils by relieving the mental strain and increasing the general nourishment.

3. Muscular power. A general muscular development is a necessity. Without it the upright position could not be maintained. The person with a good muscular development has as a rule great vitality and can resist diseases better than the one less developed and of lower vitality. Physical training tends to increase the number of muscle fibers which constitutes the strength of the muscles. There is a great difference between physical and mental work. The person who works in the office all day long and perhaps for years does not have enough physical activity to keep his body in good shape, unless he finds some way to exercise his muscles. On the other hand, the person who works only physically may be over-developed and lacking in mental activity. Unless he develops his mind by mental exercising, neither one would be normally developed. Physical training therefore tends to develop the body normally and if properly applied to the need of the individual, makes him healthy and strong.

4. Muscular co-ordination. This plays a very important part in the line of Physical training. The skeletal muscles are controlled by our will and through the connection of the nervous system which receives and sends out impulses, we are able to contract and relax our muscles at will. The back part of the brain (cerebellum) is the seat of muscular co-ordination, sense of touch, equilibrium, muscle sense and sight. Every one has to learn to stand, walk, run and so on. At first all are difficult, but after a time they become easy and are performed unconsciously. In standing or walking many muscles are concerned, and if the mind had to look directly after them we could do nothing else at the same time. We have forgotten how we learned to walk, but in acquiring a new mode of progression in later years as skating, we find that at first it needs all our attention, but when once learned we have only to start the series of movements and they are almost unconsciously carried on for us. The path of connection between the fibres of the incoming and out-going impulses become easier the more it is traveled. As one progresses by beginning with the easiest and simplest, up a long scale of intermediate, to the most difficult and complex movements he naturally forms, so to say, new paths of nerve impulses and gradually masters difficult exercises or stunts by having learned the proper co-ordination of his muscles. After one has thus progressed in the manner as already mentioned, he has not only developed his muscles, but also that part of the brain from which the impulses of muscular co-ordination have originated.

5. Increased blood circulation. When exercising the blood circulation is increased and can be brought up to a very high point. The nutritive substances for the body use, is carried in the blood stream, supplying the different organs and muscle tissue. After nourishment is brought to the tissue, it is then used up by the muscles and the accumulated waste-matter is again taken up by the blood-stream and reaches the exterior by the excretory organs. The formed waste matter in the muscle tissue if an overamount is formed, acts as poison and if not fast enough carried away the result is muscular fatigue. If a person without any training [illegible] mile in a race he will drop to the ground exhausted long before he reaches the finishing line. He will have to train very carefully in order to develop the recuperative power one of the immediate causes lies in the circulatory and respiratory organs, on which excessive work is thrown.

Exercises in Youth should be regulated largely by sex; not that women are to be shut up and made pale delicate and unfit to share the duties or participate fully in the pleasure of life but the other calls on the strength of the young woman renders vigorous muscular work often inadvisable, especially under conditions where it is apt to be followed by chill. Girls should take corrective exercises, games with a light medicine ball out of doors or in well ventilated rooms, and in any case should not be cribbed in tight stays or tight boots. Light apparatus exercises applied to their need should by no means be neglected. Fancy dancing, especially the "Gilbert system" which is very effective as it develops not only grace but also great co ordination. A healthy boy or young man may do nearly anything, but until 22 or 23 very prolonged effort is not advisable. The frame is still not firmly knit or as capable of endurance as it will subsequently become. If too much is attempted at this age not endurance but broken vitality may result.

Exercises in Adult life. Up to 40 a man may carry on safely the exercises of youth, but after that sudden efforts should be avoided. A lad of 21 or so may, if trained, safely run a quarter mile race, but to a man of forty-five it would be dangerous, for with the rigidity of cartilages and blood-vessels which begins to show about that time comes a diminished power of meeting a sudden violent demand. On the other hand a man of 30 more safely than the lad of 19 or 21 of the long distance walking matches which have lately been in vogue, the prolonged effort would be less dangerous to him, though a six-days' match, with its attendant loss of sleep cannot fail to be more or less dangerous to any one. For women during middle life the same rules apply. There should be some regular but not violent daily exercises.

In old age. The needful amount of exercises is less, and it is still more important to avoid sudden or violent effort.

Exercise for Invalids. This should be regulated under medical advice. For feeble persons gymnastic exercises are especially valuable, since from their variety they permit of selection according to the condition of the individual, and their amount can be conveniently controlled.

In the correction of deformity, more especially that resulting from faulty posture or work using one side of the body more than the other exercises of special kinds adapted to the individual case have accomplished wonderful and lasting results.

The public is cordially invited to "drop in" at the Charleroi Turn Verein any afternoon or evening during class hours and see how the classes are conducted. The class wark consists of marching tactics, calisthenics with and without hand apparati, gymnastics, dancing apparatus work, wrestling, fencing, athletic work and games. The schedule of classes will be published later.

SPORTSMEN SEEK QUAIL PRESERVE

Washington Countians Eager to Secure Consent of State for Project

If the plans of the sportsmen of Pennsylvania do not go away at the next legislative session, Washington county is likely to be the site of one of the first of the proposed new game sanctuaries that are planned in the State, says the Washington Record. In case it comes it will be devoted to the propagration and protection of quail and grouse.

The sportsmen will again present the resident hunters' license plan to the next legislature and steps are being taken to thoroughly organize all the forces for the conservation of the game and birds in preparation of the coming battle.

The hunters' license bill was almost unanimously favored at the last session by the representatives from Western Pennsylvania but was whipped in the Senate by a combination of disgruntled Democrats and a few senators from the mountain counties representing in all less than one-fourth of the state's population.

If it is passed next time, as seems probable, the plan is to utilize a part of the revenue to be derived, which is estimated at $150,000 per year for the establishment of so-called "game sanctuaries"

These will simply be protected areas where the quail may be absolutely protected and the grouse also. It is manifestly impossible under existing conditions for the State to purchase farm-land such as is needed for quail preserves, but sportsmen hold that paying a small bonus to the farmers, areas from 1,500 to 2,000 acres can be set aside in each county suitable for quail, and all hunting rights leased by the game commission for say 10 cents per acre per year, under 10 year agreements.

Washington county sportsmen will make an effort to have one of these areas established along Buffalo creek or in some other suitable section and the quail which naturally thrive hereabouts if allowed to breed unmolested, while the leasing farmers will be expected to leave a few corn shocks for shelter and a little grain in the fence corners for food. The local farmers appreciate the fact that the quail are great destroyers of incest pests and there is likely to be little trouble in finding a site for the proposed sanctuaries.

BENTLEYVILLE ALL IN POLITICS

Predominant Issue in Nomination to be the Local Assessments

Bentleyville is said to be all stirred up over the matter of local assessments, which, it is stated, will be the predominant issue in the nomination and election of borough officials at both the primary this month and at the November election. The line-up it is said, will be the people of the borough against the Pittsburg & Westmoreland Coal company, one of the largest property owners in the borough, and which is charged with evading its just share of taxation.

At a meeting of council Monday night a movement was made to start an investigation in regard to assessments in Bentleyville. It is alleged that the borough has been losing $5,000 annually in taxes which, it is said are evaded by the coal company. It was discovered not long ago that the 300 new coke ovens installed and operated by the company within the borough limits were not assessed at all, although they had been in operation since February 1910

In the discussion which arose at the council meeting it was disclosed that the total assessment of the coal company's property in the borough is $134,450, when it should be it is asserted, somewhere near half a million. Other items were enumerated which were either omitted or inadequately assessed, according to the opinions of those who raised the question. The claim was also made that private property is asessed much higher proportionately than the coal company's holdings, and that rank discriminations have been made.

In all probability the matter will enter into the fourthcoming primary, and a fight wil l be made to elect borough officials favorable to a change of methods. A red hot contest is promised.

NEW DOPE HAS IT "BILL" PHILLIPS WILL BOSS BOSTON

More dope originating from the baseball league that makes dope is to the effect that "Bill" Phillips, of Charleroi manager of the Youngstown team is not going to manage the Cincinnati Reds at all, but is going to manage Boston in the National league. Of course like all other dope it all depends on the word "if". Phillips was slated a few days ago as the future manager of the Cincinnati National league team. While this matter is being weighed in the balance, another story originating from Chicago makes its' appearance.

The latter story is, briefly stated, that 'Bill" Phillips one of the most astute and successful managers that ever managed any league team anywhere, is bound to be the manager for Boston next year, providing that W. H. Locke, the Pittsburg club's secretary, purchases an interest in the club.

Inasmuch as Locke has turned down one of the propositions submitted him by the Boston Rustler's Rustler and there doesn't seem to be any likelihood of any more propositions being forthcoming, Phillip's chances for managing the Rustlers seem to be null and void.
